Pildoras Holloway

Las virtudes de esta admirable medicina son especialmente eficaces para expulsar de la Sangre toda impureza. En los casos de debilidad, ella es incomparable, al paso que cura radicalmente las Indigestiones, y los desordenes generales del Higado, del Estomago, y de los Intestinos, restableciendose, como por encanto, el vigor y la salud normal, dichas Pildoras remueven asimismo las dolencias que suelen afligir a las Mugeres al llegar estas a la edad critica.

Unguento Holloway

Este incomparable Balsamo sana los Males de Piernas y de Pecho, las Llagas Antiguas, y aun esas Ulceras cuyo origen no conviene mencionar en un anuncio publico. Para todas las Erupciones cutaneas no hay remedio igual al Unguento Holloway, al que millares deben la salvacion tanto de sus Brazos y Piernas como de su existencia.

Antes de comprar, examinese con mucha cautela el Rotulo en el Bote o la Caja, para cerciorarse si esta la direccion de 533, Oxford Street, London, pues si no esta, entonces se trata de perpetrar un descarado engaño.

☞ Se invitan al as personas que sean defraudadas por los vendedores que expenden 'Las Pildoras y el Unguento de Holloway' falsificados para que se sirvan al comunicarme los pormenores, e inmediatamente hare formalizar procesos legales contra los Ofensores, y recompensare liberalmente a los Delatores por el trabaja que se tomen, comprometiendome a que no haya trascendencia de sus nombres.

CURAR LA SARNA EN LAS OVEJAS,
El mas eficaz
El mas barato
El mas facil de aplicar
De todos los Antisarnicos hasta ahora conocidos.

ESTE ESPECIFICO es libre de veneno y se disuelve al momento y enteramente en agua fria; puede ser empleado en cualquier estacion del ano. Ha alcanzado ya tal fama en esta Provincia que es casi el unico remedio empleado en los partidos de Chivilcoy, Mercedes, 25 de Mayo, Chacabuco, etc. Viene en tambores y cascos y se usa mezclado con 100 partes de agua.

TODAS LAS PERSONAS que han usado el Fluido Little estan contentisimas con el, como se vera por las cartas recibidas por los Agentes de los Sres. E. Casey, Eugenio Keenan, John O'Connor, John J. Muy importante para el Publico.

Poseido de la mayor ansiedad, y con el debido respecto al Publico, apelo muy encarecidamente a toda clase de personas, para que se dignen prestarme su apoyo, dando a conocer como tales las malas y aun peligrosas falsificaciones de mis medicinas, hechas principalmente en Nueva York, de que tengan conocimiento.

Especuladores nada escrupulosos adquieren esta broza a un precio sumamente bajo, y la venden como si fuera mis genuinas pildoras y ungüento, logrando con este reprobado trafico una enorme ganancia.

Ninguno de los expresados medicamentos son genuinos, si no llevan en el rotulo de cada bote y caja la inscripcion siguiente: Holloway's Pills and Ointment, 533, Oxford Street, London, y el sello del Gobierno Britanico, con las palabras Holloway's Pills and Ointment, grabadas en el.

Las personas que tengan la bondad de informar de algun traficante que venda las enunciadas medicinas falsas, seran muy bien remuneradas, y nunca, ni en circumstancia alguna, se publicaran sus nombres.

THE REVIEW.

If, as they say, 'a nation is happy whose annals are dull,' then the R. Plate may boast of everything save felicity; for, search the world round, there is not, for the size of it, another place with more stirring annals and exciting events. Our normal political state is hot water; and so accustomed have we grown to these continued excitements that we suppose we may lay down the theory that Argentines and Argentine-foreigners can endure anything rather than a quiet life. It is hardly necessary, after all we have written during the week, to go back 6 or 7 days in our history and trace the causes which led to the military review at Palermo on Sunday. Every concrete Argentine understands the question, and every foreigner too; in fact, the opinion is general that we all understand the affair but too well, and possibly one's satisfaction at these military reviews would be all the greater if the motives which necessitated them were less apparent.

The Argentine Republic is not the United States; the caste differences of race never offend our politics. We have no North and South in the Argentine Union, nor helots whose sole creed is 'that John Brown's soul is marching on,' or whose vote and political assent is secured by the mere grant of 40 acres and a mule. Argentines are brothers all; and, although the prevalence of the Indian countenance was unmistakable in many of the regiments, the review at Palermo had much about it to remind us that the people and the soldiers are one. The lines which divide society are happily not so tightly drawn as in Europe; and to the close observer, it was evident that the same feeling of satisfaction which lighted the President's countenance as he watched the troops defile before him, was shared by the ladies in their carriages and the soldiers in the ranks. Satisfaction was so unanimous that it required neither the demonstration of a cheer nor the firing off of rockets to interpret. The crowd that assembled, if not to say numerous, was select; fully 200 private carriages bowled along the avenue, and if we have often seen at Palermo a more numerous gathering at a cricket match, our appreciation of the review suffers nothing by comparison, since a bull-fight at Montevideo draws greater crowds than a review at Wimbledon or an exhibition at Cordoba. The review at Palermo was as creditable a military spectacle as any we have ever seen in this country; the cavalry were splendidly mounted; and as for the infantry, some of the regiments are so well uniformed, the men of such an equal height, and every drill evolution so perfect, that Donovan or Bosch's regiments might be marched down the Boulevard des Italiens without it ever being supposed they came from South America.

Punctuality has such few votaries in Buenos Ayres that it is rather an English view of Argentine affairs to complain of a delay of an hour and a half. The time was not thrown away, since the beautiful grounds of Palermo were for many who ran out in the Belgrano tramway as great attraction as the well-drilled regiments that lined the Sarmiento Avenue, which is beyond question the finest carriage drive in all South America, and both in width and length beats the avenue in the gardens at Rio. If General Sarmiento never did anything else for his country than endow it with this splendid park, he deserves the thanks of the nation.

The morning, although sultry, was cloudy, and the park never looked to greater advantage. We think that the Park Committee might increase its beauty by a few Rhododendrons; but for a military review we know of no place better adapted than this grand Palm tree avenue. As we entered the gates on the Santa Fé road, the cavalry were just coming up, fully one thousand men and one or two companies of Lancers, the sheen of whose spears lent increased attraction to the 'coup d'œil.' Strange to say, the weakest point in our military organization has always been cavalry; either it is too easy or too difficult to make a cavalry soldier. The ragamuffin bands that, about the Cepeda epoch, covered the camps of B. Ayres under the name of cavalry, have been replaced by well-mounted and well-armed troopers who, besides the sabre, carry the long cavalry Colt's revolver, one of the most terrible and effective of weapons in the hands of well-drilled soldiers. The troops stretched from the park gates on Calle Santa Fe down to the site of the old wreck when we first knew Palermo. The Artillery mustered much stronger than we expected, and, besides Krupp steel pieces, showed two terrible mitrailleuses. President Avellaneda attended by his escort, drove down the whole line, wheeled in front of Hansen's and driving up to Rosas's old Palermo Palace, alighted. From the azotea he had the most commanding view. The troops, with bands playing and colours flying, marched down the old Palermo-road en route to town. The President wore the Star and Garter sash of the Republic; and we think we never saw him looking better, although so soon about to surrender office.

The chief in command was Colonel Viejo Bueno, and the following regiments with their respective officers marched down the Palermo Road before H.E. the President, who saluted each regiment as it passed:—

1st Regiment of Infantry, Colonel T. Garcia.

7th ditto, Lieutenant-Colonel Fotheringham.

8th ditto, Colonel A. Donovan.

10th ditto, Lieutenant-Colonel S. Anaya.

11th ditto, Lieutenant-Colonel F. Bosch.

1st Regiment of Cavalry, Colonel M. Campos.

12th ditto, Lieutenant-Colonel J. M. Uriburu.

1st Regiment of Artillery, Lieutenant-Colonel R. Gill.

It was a strange sight, no doubt, the President perched on the roof, the band playing and the troops marching in the locality of all others to which Argentine liberties can lay the least claim. There were foreign Ministers and elegantly dressed ladies in the group that surrounded His Excellency on the roof. The troops numbered, we should say, from 3000 to 4000 men, and showed an efficiency that warned us of the growth of the military element in this country. Professor Huxley's views on technical education seemed fully borne out by many remarkable features of the review, and the Indian Artillery men were certainly a surprise to us all. Argentine democracy may owe more to its army than is generally supposed; there perhaps could be no greater contrast than the turn out of the Tiro Nacional in the Calle Florida and the review of the troops of the Line in Palermo. Comparisons are at all times envidious; and we shall merely remark that if the people of Buenos Aires feel justly proud of the volunteer turn-out in our streets, they may share the same satisfaction at the review of their regular army, whose services are priceless when true to the National flag under which they fight.

CHILIAN SKETCHES.
BY MIGUEL CANE.
(From the 'Nacional.')

I veer to the North. The Valdivia advances slowly and heavily; its holds are full. The steamer is crowded with 200 steerage and 100 first-class passengers. In every nook the Chilian type, with its characteristic features, strikes the observer. Now and then a fair Englishman enlivens the background of the groups; he is stiff and impassible, and after ten years in Chile can speak no other language than his own. Taine, in his impressions of England, with much horror, dwells on the pronunciation of Ceasar's 'vinai, vaidai, vaigai' by an English doctor in Trinity, Cambridge. Thus I have heard some 'duros' Britishers pronounce Antofeguesta, Paisigue, Maiquel Jones (Mejillones), and Aicuicue (Iquique).

My first day on board evidenced the natural and traditional hostility of man to man. All the countenances inspire distrust; the second nature man acquires in education seems to be quite dormant here, and the instinct of self-preservation preponderates; all around are repulsive and rigid countenances; all the doors are barred; the bottle of mellowed Falernian stands blooming alone before you at table—well understood for yourself alone. I have wasted a box of matches in lighting my cigar, whilst my companion coolly smokes his Virginian, well lit. What delightful cordiality!

I ask at the dinner table for extra fruit, nearly simultaneously with an English lady of 40 summers, who quite alone is bound for Jamaica—a voyage of a month and two weeks! The waiter helps me to the fruit, and politely informs the lady that there is no more fruit to be had. I gallantly offer my untouched fruit, and I am greeted with hard, dry and severe 'thanks.' I politely bow, leave the fruit, put on my cap, and go on deck, thinking of this 'curiosa' Englishwoman. This gives woman the enterprise and the independence of a pioneer, but her charm and influence are gone.

Previous to my departure from Valparaiso the papers reproduced some of my opinions on the Chilian Question. Some Chilians on board discovered my name on my luggage, and organized a by-talk on the Argentine Press etc. I, meanwhile, sipped my coffee and smoked my cigar, without interrupting. As I arose from the table, one of them said: complete fiasco—he won't talk.

One hundred women are organizing a heart-rending accordion concert at the bows of the vessel; this voyage seems really a farce of the Argonauts' expedition; but now Catchis is in Iquique; besides, Orpheus is not only not on board but does not even inhabit Chile.

Iquique—here is the saline emporium.

Salt! All Biblical curses are saline: Lot's wife was transformed into a pillar of salt; the cities, under the ire of Jehovah's chosen people, are now saline deposits. There is no more fatal traditional matter on earth than this. Even amongst us, when a railway touches or crosses a saline district, it is open to charges of ephemeral swindles, scandals, duels and all the cortege of maledictions.

Poor Peru! Whilst she had only guano she was indolently cradled by fortune. Heaven smiles on her: when the guano was exhausted, Tarapaca and her salitre was discovered. Immediately the bane arises—ambitions are roused—cupidity reigns supreme, and direful war scourges the land.

A Chilian gentleman was teasing a young Columbian, hinting at the possibility of the Chilians invading his country; he very wittily answered: 'In my country there is no salitre.'

There is nothing more disconsolate and more barren than the Chilian coast and the Pacific in general. Nature only revives at Guayaciul. There is no poorer population than that dwelling in the capricious cavities of enormous rocks; such are Mejillones, Coquimbo, etc.

Really the barren panorama is melancholy to the American born on the Atlantic coast, accustomed to the luxuriant vegetation and fertility of our soil. There are no green pampas here to greet the eye—no, not a tree; white and naked peaks stud the horizon; sand everywhere all around the desert. Often the traveller under the pangs of thirst gazes around, his eyes start from their orbits and humanity descends to the wild beast in the agony. A spring appears in the distance; he rushes to it, and is dead. The water that profusely springs between the sands is poisonous to all animal organism.

The man born on this soil is not the same as the one who saw the light of day for the first time at the foot of the Aconquija, amongst the verdant lands of the virgin forests. The son of Buenos Ayres is as distinct from him as the physical aspect of both countries. Our physical geography is certainly not that of the tropics, which enervates man and creates a lack of energy and enterprise, through the absence of that necessity which makes him work. Amongst us feeling predominates over reflexion; no one ever conceives the idea of enriching himself at the expense of his neighbour, as our natural riches are abundant.

In Chile it is not so, and more especially in the North. The mining population are not attached to the soil. The mine once exhausted the miner departs, like the bird, after feeding on the seed of a plant. Hence arises a spirit of adventure fatal to the fertile and neighbouring countries. Who can count the invading hords that have swept India in Asia and Italy in Europe?

'Punta Angamos,' gaily shouts a voice at table. The waters are as tranquil as on the morning of the terrible struggle when the Huascar, after a gallant resistance, nobly succumbed. But Nature cares little for our struggles.

All regain their seats: the Chilians, with circumspection and politeness, drink a glass of wine. A gentleman advances, hands me a glass of champagne, and invites me to toast Sarmiento. I bow with pleasure and drain the cup—'La glace est rompue:' we engage in conversation. One gentleman expressed his pleasure at my presence, that I might study the Chilian character near. 'We are,' he said, 'rather diffident towards strangers, but if you 'scrape' us a little you will find friendly sentiments and a good amount of sincerity.' I told him the 'scraping' operation was rather difficult for me, as it was unknown in my country. There is no denying the fact that the educated Chilians, after a short 'connaissance,' are extremely agreeable. I speak in general, as the people I fortunately met in Santiago are the Upper Ten of intellectual Chilian society: with them there is no need of 'scraping.'

MORE OF IT.

The unfortunate encounter which occurred on Sunday between some few men of Col. Donovan's regiment and some citizens who shouted 'Viva Buenos!' as it was marching past them, in Calle Florida, has elicited the following note from Governor Tejedor to the Minister of the Interior:—

To. Dr. Dn. B. Zorilla,
Minister of Interior.

Mr. Minister,

On Friday evening last two officers of the 7th of the Line met in the street a member of the Tiro Nacional, unarmed, but in uniform, and one of them fired at him with a revolver, wounding him in the neck.

Yesterday, during the march past of the National troops, some soldiers of the 8th Regt. responded to the cry of 'Viva Buenos Ayres!' raised by some citizens, by wounding seven people with their bayonets.

As the first offence was committed outside barracks it comes under the jurisdiction of the ordinary courts, but the officer in command has refused to give the perpetrators to the police.

In the second case the cry raised may be regarded as a provocation, especially for soldiers in whom their officers inculcate a hostile spirit, but it is none the less an act unworthy of the army, which should consider it cowardly to attack unarmed men.

The Provincial Government hopes that, when the President of the Republic knows the facts, the two officers will be handed over to the courts, and the soldiers punished according to military law,

It is out of question to allow the matter to pass with impunity, as the citizens are capable of killing the soldiers in as cowardly a manner as the latter have wounded some of them.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The review at Palermo on Sunday passed off in the happiest manner, although, owing to the terrible heat of the weather, the attendance of the public was not so large as might have been expected. President Avellaneda presided at a banquet in the military School, and made one of those appropriate speeches which he so well knows how to make On the green sward in Palermo Wood, the rank and file were entertained with 'carne con cuero.' The troops marched into town at 5 p.m., and many of them were so fatigued that they had to fall out of the ranks and sit down in Calle Florida. (This rather surprises us, as most of the infantry looked as fit for marching as any soldiers we have ever seen. Perhaps they want more practice at the exercise. Napoleon the Great laid down that the soldier's most formidable weapon is his legs; the Great Captain won most of his battles by celerity of movement). The only disagreeable incident of the day occurred at the corner of Calles Florida and Rivadavia, where some over-enthusiasic parties provoked a disturbance, in which some of them received sharp bayonet wounds from the soldiers, which is much to be regretted. A gentleman in the crowd looking on was also seriously wounded in the waistcoat pocket, a thief having managed during the scuffle to run off with his gold watch, worth $2000 m/c.

The general opinion is that it was a great mistake to march the troops up from Palermo to the city they say that fully 300 men succumbed from excessive fatigue—the men were up from two o'clock in the morning. In every house where the poor fellows applied they were well received and aided. The tired and jaded appearance of the men in the town was very different from their appearance in Palermo at break of day.

The Pacific Company's steamer Cordillera sailed on Sunday: she took a very heavy mail. We could have sold double our Packet Edition issue, although we published an extra number, such was the anxiety to send home details of recent political events.

Carnival was buried on Sunday. Calle Buen Orden was the rendezvous of the comparsas. The Italian society 'Stella di Roma' carried off the prize and wreath given to the best comparsa that appeared during Carnival. 'Viva Italia!'

The next Lavarello steamer to arrive has 584 new wheat-growers on board.

The weather is not the thing: too hot by half; and more than half the algibes in town are in the same condition as the Standard cellar—Empty. The 'tormenta' which appeared threatening on Sunday evening at six o'clock blew off, to the great disappointment of all.

On Sunday the Cathedral was crowded with the elite of Buenos Ayres society; Father Jordan's eloquence drew a greater crowd than the military review at Palermo, The aisles of our Notre Dame contained a varied assembly of lawyers, escribanos and military men, Argentines and foreigners. The Rev. gentleman dwelt on the 'Memento homo, quia pulvis est et in pulverem reverteris.' The poetry of his expression, and the charm with which he links the past with the present, are the main features of his sermons. The crowded aisles of the church are the best proofs of his eloquence, and its appreciation in every class of society.

This republic has refused Germany's invitation to join the Parcel Post League. Mr. Olivera says, and we think says rightly, that a young country like this has no facilities for carrying parcels, however small, as all the subsidies to the diligences would have to be much increased, and even then these conveyances have very limited accommodation, and the letters are as much as they can carry: and in many places in the Interior the mails go on horseback, and sending parcels in such a way is quite out of the question.

The Santa Fe papers say that the most popular candidate to succed Dr. Iriondo as Governor of that Province is the Rev. Dr. Zavalia, Deputy elect to Congress. There is no reason why a clergyman would not make a capital Governor; on the contrary, there are a great many why he should.

Professor Guzman plays the piano to-night at the Florida Gardens.

It is pleasant to read that the yellow fever has completely disappeared from Rio Grande.

San Fernando is a great place for carriage accidents: the last one there would have been fatal but for the great presence of mind of a city editor. On Thursday last there was another runaway business there, and the coachman was pitched from his box, the wheels going over his stomach. Unluckily there was no editor in the carriage, nor even within nine miles of the mishap.

Two leading practitioners at Azul have got into a pretty considerable fix by issuing a certificate to the effect that a respectable resident of the town, Don Celestino Larens, was 'non compos mentis', on the strength of which the local Juez de Paz at once sent him to the mad house in Buenos Ayres; but the doctors of this institution declare that the man is as sane ns Lord Beaconsfield or Governor Tejedor, and Mr Larens has already sent his lawyers a retaining fee for an action for damages against the Azul M. Ds.

The La Paz published a bulletin yesterday evening, which expresses strong hopes that General Roca will resign before the election, but not just at present. The General's answer to General Campos says as much, between the lines.

We have received a copy of the Empresario of Tunja, a very neat, well got up, weekly paper, of small dimensions, but which has, nevertheless, seven editors. Such a pressure of editorial steam will inevitably shake the poor little paper to bits. As a general rule, all Spanish American papers are monstrously over edited.

The Corrientes papers mention a terrible massacre of Indians in the Chaco, and blame the military there very much. This is the second outrage of the kind in the Chaco within a month.

The new steamer General Mansilla, built by Messrs Mayer and Brugo, will shortly be ready for the upper Parana route. She is a very fine vessel, and a credit to her builders and the country.

We hear that Mr Raphael Hernandez is making arrangements to import from France a large supply of the new cattle brands (the Paquelin) which we fully described some months ago. Wont a Bill in the Chambers be necessary to legalise their use?

There was weeping and gnashing of teeth in Terpsychorean quarters on Saturday and Sunday night owing to the Municipality refusing to allow any masquerade balls during Lent. Perhaps they may relax the rule at 'mi-Careme.' The loss to each of the theatres, through the Municipal objection to the can-can in Lent, is said to be 50,000 m|c.

Advices from the Upper Provinces say that the Cuyo roads are in such a shocking state that it is terrible work to get even the mails over them, to say nothing of passengers and baggage. There are not half-a-dozen roads in the Republic worthy of the name; the Flores Road, we believe, being the most respectable of the lot, and even it is no great things. It is to be hoped the next National Administration will take to road-making. 'More Roads' would be a capital electioneering cry to go to the Provinces with We suggest it to Presidential candidates.

Another Children's Fancy Ball at the Florida Gardens is in contemplation. We hear from competent authority that the lowest figure at which a very young lady can be rigged for these entertainments is 5,000 m|c. Phew!

The Chilian papers to hand again announce that Mr Clark has every hope of soon being able to launch his Transandine Railway in London. We hope our Chilian confreres are well informed.

Great consternation was created in the 'Village of the Plain' on Saturday by the discovery of a man's corpse in a ditch, the head being completely severed from the body and a ferocious stab in the heart. The active Juez de Paz is making every exertion to discover the criminal.

NEW WRITING INSTRUMENTS

We have been shown by Mr. John Samson] a neat little writing instrument which is one of the latest products of American ingenuity.

This instrument, styled the Mac-Kinnon pen, after its inventor, consists of a hollow vulcanised rubber holder, of the form of an ordinary pen-holder and more or less adorned by chasing. The point instead of a steel nib is a very fine tube of gold, with a diamond point. The handle being filled with ink, it naturally flows through the point tube, but the flow is regulated by a beautiful arrangement of mechanism; above the tube there is a piston of platinum to which is attached a needle of the same metal, the point of which needle protrudes slightly beyond the fine tube.

When the pen is applied to the paper in writing the pressure forces back the needle or piston and allows the ink to flow, but when the pen is lifted, a spiral spring of gold immediately closes the valve and prevents all escape of ink. The handle is filled as often as required, say once a fortnight, with any ink chosen, copying, red ink, etc, working equally well as common ink; and the pen writes till the last drop is expended.

From this description it will be seen that the problem of a 'Fountain Pen' is at last solved. Here we have an instrument which can be carried in the pocket and is always ready to write a letter in ink. Even in the office its benefit will be felt, as there is no need of continually raising the hand to the ink bottle, and the writing flies on, continuously as the thoughts.

It will be seen too, that it is practically indestructable, as from the superior materials employed, there is nothing the ink will corrode; the diamond point will hardly wear out. So satisfied are the makers of th s that they offer a written guarantee for three years with every pen. The saving of ink alone, though not often considered, ought almost to amount to the cost of a pen in the course of a year.

The popularity of this pen has proved its value, over 20,000 having been sold in the United States during last year.

Mr Samson is also agent for Professor Edison's Electric Pen and Press, his duplicating ink, and his medical apparatus, some of the minor inventions of the great scientist, but each of which might have sufficed to give fame to a name less notable.

In the 'Electric Pen,' a needle in the point of the writing instrument, acted on by electricity, makes a series of minute perforations in the paper, so rapidly and closely together that the writing appears a continuous line. The paper on which the writing is thus executed becomes a stencil plate, from which any number of copies up to 6000 may be obtained by simply passing over it a printer's roller, saturated in ink, as the ink is forced through the perforations to the paper below. As many as 300 impressions per hour can be made by an office boy. Maps, plans, invoice heads, and in fact any thing which may be drawn with a pen, can be reproduced by this useful invention.

The Electric pen is now universally a part of the office furniture in the United States, and has proved a formidable rival to the printers and lithographers; young men gain a very good livelyhood on a small capital by starting as Electric pen printers. Last year, one of these took the contract for printing the great register of voters in San Francisco for $7000, whilst the printers demanded for the same work $13,000.

The advantages of Edison's Electric Medical apparatus will be best understood by physicians, who must already have heard much regarding its wonderful curative effects. By means of many ingeniously contrived instruments, the electric current is directed into different parts of the body, whilst everything is completely under control of the operator.

CELERY AS A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.

New discoveries—or what claim to be discoveries—of the healing virtues of plants are continually being made. One of the latest is that celery is a cure for rheumatism; indeed, it is asserted that the disease is impossible if the vegetable be cooked and freely eaten. The fact that it is always put on the table raw prevents its therapeutic powers from becoming known. The celery should be cut into bits, boiled in water until soft, and the water drunk by the patient. Put new milk with a little flour and nutmeg, into a saucepan with a little boiled celery, serve it up warm with pieces of toast, eat it with potatoes, and the painful ailment will soon yield. Such is the declaration of a physician who has again and again tried the experiment and with uniform success. He adds that cold or damp never produces, but simply develops, the disease, of which acid blood is the primary and sustaining cause, and while blood is alkaline there can be neither rheumatism nor gout. English statistics show that in one year (1876) 3,640 persons died of rheumatism, and every case, it is claimed, might have been cured or prevented by the adoption of the remedy mentioned. At least two-thirds of the cases named heart disease are ascribed to rheumatism, and its agonizing ally gout. Smallpox, so much dreaded, is not half so destructive as rheumatism which it is maintained by many physicians, can be prevented by obeying Nature's laws in diet. But, if you have incurred it, boiled celery is pronounced unhesitatingly to be a specific.

The week has opened on a much harder gold market, which is attributed to the drop in exchange and the large purchases by the bears of last week. The sudden drop in exchange is perhaps the best explanation of the rise in gold. Bills were passed to-day at 5.27 Paris, 5.23 Antwerp, 200,000 francs, and drawers on London refuse anything higher than 50d. It is thought, however, that by the end of the week exchange will be again up, owing to the great movement going on in wool. Dr. Plaza, Minister of Hacienda Nacional, has much helped the market by taking this exchange at the present moment, as there was too much offering for the takers in the market. Gold opened at 30.75, dropped to 30.65, and closed at 30.75. For the end of the month half a million sold, opening at 30.90, dropping to 30.75, and closing at 30.85. For March also a large business done, opening at 31, dropping to 31.85, and closing at 30.90. The sales of the day amounted to 800,000, against 1½ million on Saturday.

Cedulas keep rising, opening at 84½ and closing at 85, stock very firm. Treasury Bills advanced to-day one, closing at 77. National Bonds of 76 have advanced to 66, and Nat. Bank Shares hold even at 60½.

The Pacific steamer Galicia entered Montevideo to-day, she brings Bordeaux dates to 31st ult. and Lisbon 3rd inst; her mails come up in the morning.

There was great talk on 'Change about the affair with the troops in Calle Florida last night and which resulted in 7 or 8 wounded. In Europe such a thing could not occur; and according to the ordenanzas, even if the soldiers were pelted, they could not charge or open fire on the people.

The first shipment of wool from the Prange Estancia Co. Limited, Banda Oriental, 153 bales, ex Dom Pedro, was sold in Havre by Messrs Napp and Co. at the splendid price of 2 frcs. 70 centimes. This news was only known in the market to-day, and it shows what splendid prices River Plate wools fetch this year in Europe.

The Cordillera could only get away to-day owing to the delay of quarantine.

Gold at afterhours ruled about the same, the rise in the market to-day seems to those who keenly watch the market, as but the prelude to a still greater fall. Too much gold came on the market on Saturday, and had to be carried at a cost of from 10 to 25 cents to next Saturday; and from the general aspect of affairs it looks as if on Saturday next there will be more gold than ever to be paid for, which, owing to the great tightness of paper money, means a still heavier fall.

The news from Montevideo of a rumoured invasion there, as appears by telegram, was not known on 'Change. The telegrams about produce etc., are most important, and will be found in another column.

On Monday, March 1st, Mr Frank Livingstone will hold a most important sheep auction at Mr Patrick Gannon's estancia, Giles. 30,000 of the very best sheep in the country. We advise those who want to secure really good sheep to attend this auction; all the Irish farmers in the North well know the quality of Gannon's flocks.

The Austrian barque Mirta N. has been cleared by Rivara for Antwerp with 1,153 bales wool and 10,000 horns. The barque Kong Kaan for Hamburg by Pisani with 409 bales wool, 28 bales cuttings and 789 horse hides; and Mr Gowland has despatched the Italian barque Luigi P. in ballast to the West Coast. The s.s. The War-Office calls for bids of some importance to our importers. We have not received the notice from the Comisaria Department, but we advise dry goods importers to look up the matter, as the contracts are heavy ones, and the bids are to be opened on the 15th and 16th of next month.

We notice the shipment of two bordalesas filled with fine agate stone, shipped from Montevideo to Antwerp. This stone finds great acceptation in Europe; we have a box over 100 years old made from Uruguay agate, and it ranks as an heirloom.

It is rumoured on the Bolsa that the 100,000 Sovereigns on the way out to the Prov. Bank have been sold at 1½ premium, receiving in payment other gold. This sale is an important one, as the premium of Sovereigns has greatly fallen within the last few days.

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
(Ex Army Medical Staff)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

—o—

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—Diptheria, Fever, Croup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitations and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis &c.

Extracts from Medical Opinions.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne. See Lancet, Dec. 31st, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq. late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay. 'Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed.

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports (December 1865) that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. Collin Browne's Chlorodyne was administered, the patient recovered.

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera. 'So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases.

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, August 1st, 1860, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne, that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.

CAUTION. None genuine without the words 'Dr. J. Collis Browne' on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Mc Master, has brought an action at law against me, the undersigned, complaining that on the 18th of November of last year soon after noon, in the Calle Piedad between Reconquista and San Martin, I struck him in the face with my fist, and whereas in his complaint against me he tells the Judge (1) that I struck him without provocation, and (2) that he was unable to strike me again in consequence of my immediate disappearance: therefore I earnestly request any of the bystanders who witnessed what occurred on that occasion to come forward and testify to the falsehood of the two latter assertions.
